

Exposition by Rev. Canon Abraham Lubega Kisakye

On Sunday, 4th May 2025, St. Stephen's Church of Uganda Luzira Archdeaconry Headquarters hosted a spirit-filled mini convention under the powerful ministration of Rev. Canon Abraham Lubega Kisakye.

Drawing from the book of Job, Rev. Canon Kisakye preached a profound message on faith, suffering, and righteousness. He highlighted how Job's endurance and integrity in adversity demonstrate that not all suffering is a result of sin, but sometimes a divine test meant to refine us and bear witness to God's sovereignty. Referencing Job 8:20, he reminded believers that "God does not reject a blameless person or strengthen the hands of evildoers."

The message called Christians to live righteous lives, even amidst hardship, trusting that God sees, knows, and rewards the faithful. Verses like Deuteronomy 28:1-3, Psalms 37:32-35, and Matthew 5:10-12 reinforced the theme: the righteous may face trials, but they are never abandoned. Like Job, who proclaimed, "I know that my Redeemer lives" (Job 19:25), believers were urged to anchor their hope in what they know about God's unchanging nature.

The convention was a call to remain steadfast, humble, and faithful—knowing that God rewards those who walk in righteousness, both now and in eternity.

May we continue to grow in faith and stay on the path of the righteous.
